

2nd national

worker co-op CONFERENCE

October 13-15, 2006 in New York City

Celebrating and strengthening workplace democracy & worker ownership

1. Friday: Opening Reception and Presentations at Colors Restaurant 417 Lafayette St.

Greetings: Paul Hazen, President, National Cooperative Business Association * Worker Cooperatives in the World Economy * Local, Regional and National News and Initiatives

2. Sat/Sun: Main Conference at Millennium H.S. 75 Broad St.

Keynote: Rick Surpin, Founder, the Bronx * Focus on Worker-Development * Skill-building * Rebuilding New Orleans: the * Innovative Approaches to Raising and Unions * Worker-Ownership Free Consultations with Business Meeting of the U.S. Federation

3. Sunday: Film at Anthology Film Archives 32 Second Ave.

The Take (Argentina's Worker Co-op Collective of New Orleans * Green Collective of New Orleans * Green Restaurant * Long Island Home * Northcountry Cooperative Restaurant Opportunity Center Copies * Association of Arizmendi Ohio Employee Ownership Center * Madison, Grassroots Economic Org. CooperationWorks! * The Cooperative Fdn

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. Interpretation in Spanish/English. Childcare & on-site meals.

{ www.usworker.coop }

USFWC * PO Box 170701 San Francisco, CA 94117 * (415) 379-9201 * info@usworker.coop
The United States Federation of Worker Cooperatives is a grassroots membership organization dedicated to building a thriving worker cooperative movement and a democratic society in which workers are in control of the management, governance and ownership of their places of work.